

Soehartati Gondhowiardjo

Chair, National Cancer Prevention Committee, Indonesia

Dr Gondhowiardjo is a full-time Professor and Radiation Oncologist at Cipto Mangunkusumo General Hospital Jakarta, Chairperson of Indonesian National Cancer Control Committee (NCCC) and President of the Indonesian Radiation Oncology Society (IROS). Recently, she received an Honorary Member Award in the field of radiation oncology in ESTRO 37, Barcelona.

Dr Gondhowiardjo received her PhD on EBV and cell proliferation activity as predictive factors of nasopharyngeal cancer radiation responses. Her research activities include radiation oncology physics and molecular oncology and have resulted in several publications. Current fields of interest are head-, neck- and breast Cancer, stereotactic, and CNS tumors. She actively participates in several organizations of oncology professionals and was the past President of the Federation of Asia Organizations for Radiation Oncology, President of South East Asian Radiation Oncology Group, and President of Indonesian Society for Oncology. She is Council Member of Asian Clinical Oncology Society and a member of the European Society for Radiotherapy and Oncology, the Pediatric Radiation Oncology Society and is the National Project Coordinator for several IAEA projects.