

Ntokozi Ndlovu

Radiation Oncologist, University of Zimbabwe, Harare, Zimbabwe

Dr. Ntokozi Ndlovu is a Clinical/Radiation Oncologist and Clinical Epidemiologist at the University of Zimbabwe Faculty of Medicine and Health Sciences (UZ-FMHS) where she is Chairperson of the Department of Oncology. She serves in a number of regional roles in oncology and is currently the Southern Africa Vice Chairperson for the African Organization for Research and Training in Cancer (AORTIC).

She has also served as President of the African Radiation Oncology Group and contributed to a number of IAEA technical projects and missions as Project Scientific Consultant and Technical Expert. Her career spans involvement in the fields of cancer research and human resource and treatment capacity building through collaborative partnerships. She is a longstanding cancer advocate on equity of cancer care delivery at home and in the region.