CONVENTION ON THE PHYSICAL PROTECTION OF NUCLEAR MATERIAL

Report by the Director General

1. In September 1984, at its twenty-eighth regular session, the General Conference adopted resolution GC(XXVIII)/RES/424, in which it: (a) continued to express the hope that the Convention on the Physical Protection of Nuclear Material[1] would enter into force at the earliest possible date and that it would obtain the widest possible adherence; and (b) requested the Director General to report to the General Conference at its next regular session on the signature and ratification status of the Convention. This report is being submitted to the Conference in response to that request.
2. By 30 August 1985, the Convention had been signed by 39 States and one international organization (EURATOM) and ratified by 14 States (see Annex); since September 1984, the Convention has been signed by Niger and Portugal and ratified by Guatemala, Norway, Paraguay and Turkey. Twenty-one ratifications, acceptances or approvals are required for the entry into force of the Convention, pursuant to Article 19.
